Carolina Mountaineers Again at Their Old Tricks.

A FIERCE BATTLE FOUGHT

Between a Deputy United States Marshal's Posse and Mountainars-Several Persons On Each Side Wounded-Further Trouble Expected as the Anthorities are Deterinlued to Brenk Up the Gang.

CHARLETTE, N. C., Jan. 18, Moonshiners in the mountains in this part of the state are | only wire connected with the capital buildbecoming very lawless and troublesome. It ling. is evident that some of Redman's famous gang still survive, and are organizing to and Representative Flynn nominated Sensoperate on a large scale. Redman, who was or years the king of North Carolina moonshiners and a desperate outlaw, and who is now serving a term of imprisonment in the Albany penitontiary, had in his day, and that only a few years ago, a large lesly of bill 16 have all correspond thousal this followers, and he carried on moonshining on

> After his greet his men were compelled to lishand, but now it seems as if a new or-ganization with an unknown leader had been perfected in the mountains. At different times and to different parts of the western mountains in this state lately large groups of men strongly suspected of being moonshiners have been seen, and it is also said that some of them bousted that Redman's spirit is still among them.

Among a certain class of mountain farmgrad theems only natural to them to manufacture their truit which is always abundant into spirituous liquors and they do not care to pay the toll Uncle Sam demands. So they set up their distillery in some secret spot in a swamp or recess of the mountains and keep a lookout for officers. The revenue officers have noticed recently that where one mountainer is found there are likely to be more than a dozen in shouting distance, and it is now becoming risky for an officer to stroll about the mountain alone. The prom-shiners are hard to arrest, and in not a few nstance officers who attempted to arrest hem have been wounded.

The latest evidence of moonshiners organizing was received last night from Cleveland ounty Deputy United States Marshal G. W. Men's, with a strong posse, had been for the past two days raiding mountains in Clevelan I and Burke counties. They had discovered several distilleries and destroyed them, and had also made three arrests. Late The-slay night they, with their prisoners. were slowly riding around South Mountain toward Shelby. The night was exceedingly lark. Suddenly a voice from the bushes rang out, "Give up your prisoners, or you all must die."

The officers demanded to know the names but to this a volley from twenty-five rifles gave answer. The officers at once recognized their danger, and prepared to return the salute, but, their horses being frightened, they found it impossible to do so quickly.

"Bang, bang," again and again re-ochoe from the ambush. The officers, aiming in the direction of the sound, opened fire hot and fast. One prisoner fell from his horse wounded by the moonshiners, and when he sent up a wail the moonshiners rushed out making the officers retreat a short distance. They then picked up their wounded and field to the woods, carrying with them the

It is positive that at least half a dozen moonshiners received wounds, while a memher of the posse named Wray and several others were seriously injured. Efforts will be made to nip this new Redman outbreak in

On taking the chair, Senator Daniels made a few remarks, stating which he was so unanimously chosen, and favored the caucus system as a most satisfactory Republican measure. The three secretaries and five tellers, which were agreed upon Tuesday night, were unanimously chosen without delay. After canvassing the question as to how many Republicans of the house and senate were present and record the members as 121 senators and representatives, a motion prevailed that the caucus proceed to make nominations and take an

Senator Buckman, of Sauk Rapids, Benton county, nominated Dwight Nabin, which was received with tunniltuous applause from the gallery. In seconding Sabin's nomina tion, Senator Edwards, in referring to the numerous attacks of the daily newspapers upon the nominee, said; "I would not bend a knee to drive down a great man like Son ator Sabin in order that some pup might rise over his grave."

Several other senators, and representatives conded Sabin's nomination.

Representative Morgan, in a brief and brilliant speech, nominated W. D. Washburn, and it was seconded by half - dozen At 9:15 p. m. Representative Hompee of

Ottor Tail county, nominated Ignatius Don-nelly, in a fifteen minute speech which was seconded by Representatives McGrath, of Dakota county, and Sevatson, of Jackson, after which at 9:30 the caucus proceeded to take an informal ballot,

It was 10 o'clock when the result of the informal ballot was announced by the chairman as follows: W. D. Washburn 52, D. M. Sabin 43, Ignatius Donnelly 15, Knawt Nelson 7, C. M. Start 3, H. B. The first formal ballot was announced at 10:30, and was the same as the informal one When Washburn's vote was announced sena tors and representatives joined the gallery in the wildest kind of cheering, which lasted fully a minute. The second ballot was at once proceeded with,

During the progress of the second ballot it was whispered about that Senator Scheffer, of Ramsey county, had changed his vote from Sabin to Washburn and that Washburn would surely be nominated on this ballot The result of the count on the second was a surprise and the Sabin mon velled themselves hoarse as the figures were announced at 10:45 na follows: Washburn, 56: Sabin, 55; Donnelly, 5; Nelson, 2; Start, 3; Cole, 1. Whole ther voting 122; necessary to a choice #2.

The third ballot was commenced at 10:45. and resulted as follows: Washburn, 62; Sabin, 54; Donnelly, 4; Start, 2. Whole number 122; necessary to a choice 62.

The announcement of the final ballot was received with the wildest cheers and yells, and it was three or four manutes before orde could be restored. Senator Buchman moved that the nomination be made unanimous. E. B. Lane, who had voted for Sabin throughout, seconded the motion, which was carried.

A committee was sent to inform Gen. Washburn, who was in the governor's rooms of his nomination, and escort him to the ouse chamber.

Gen. Washburn entered the chamber at 11:20 and was escorted to the stand. He thanked the caucus for their cordial action "If your action is ratified by your convention you can count upon me as a true and loyal Republican. I want to say that I am pleased in the way the affairs of this caucus have been conducted. I have not words to express my thanks for the action you have aken to-night."

Senator Sabin was escorred to the chair and said: "I am much in the tired condition of Gen. Washburn, only more so. I am worn out, played out and counted out." He thankel his friends for their interest manifested in his behalf. After three cheers were given for Sabin. Donnelly was called for hat that zentleman failed to respond. Part of General Harrison's Address Made Public.

HIS SOUTHERN POLICY. He Says It is Not a Question of the Past But of the Present-A Free and Fair Ballot the Cornerstone of Our Present Government. New York, Jan. 18.-The Sun's Indianapolis correspondent says: Gen. Harrison has completed that part of his address that refers to the south. It is not very long, but it is to the point. The underlying theme of the whole matter will be the necessity for a free and fair ballot. The principle of control by the majority, says Gen. Harrison, is the destruction with which we were threntthat he was not unmindful of the manner in the corner atone of our governmental sys-

The question of a free and equal ballot, be declares, is a dominant one, embracing all others because it involves the question of a free and fair tribunal to which every ques-tion shall be submitted for arbitration. He warns the people that this principle of govermment by the majority has been to a cortain extent overturned, and that the indus-tries of the country have been threatened because the laboring vote in a large part of the country is suppressed.

As to the south directly he says that no one wishes ill to that section; on the contrary, it is the desire of every good citizen that her prosperity shall not only be main-tained but shall increase; "that the streams of her prosperity shall run full," as the presidont-elect once expressed it publicly. It is not now a question, he insists, of what has occurred once upon a time, but of what is occurring now. This is, be says, the almost entire suppression of the colored Republican rote at the south upon National questions. He finds especially deplorable the evidence that the persistent suppression of the votes of the workingmen in one section of the country has demoralized the trust in the sanctity of the ballot. The general belief that corrupt and improper influences have come to have a great influence in determining the results even of presidential elections, the tally sheet forgeries and similar crimes in many states outside of the south, the revolutionary proceedings in other states whereby duly elected officers have been prevented from exercising the functions for which the people had chosen them, are some of the evidences of the danger that threatens free institutions through the failure of general faith in the fairness of the ballot. The practice of gerrymandering states in congressional and legislative apportionments for the purpose of suppressing the majority and giving to the minority a power and in-fluence in logislative bodies, to which it is not entitled, will also probably be referred to, although that part of the address has not yet been fully considered. There will be other the south in the address, in that part that deals with the tariff question, and they will, it is understood, be of a nature to please the business men of that section,

A Michigan. majority of the slaves captured by the German man-of-war Leipzig, were lodged at the station. One missionary succeeded in escaping from the Arabs, but eight others were massacred. Three bodies, one of them that of a woman, were found mutilated in a bar barous manner. The Arabs carried off the servants and slaves at the station.

The French mission stations, especially those near Tugu, are in imminent danger of attack. The Arabs who are now joining in the slave trade come principally from Kilwa and Lindi, and are richer and more influen tial than Bushiri, and are likely to over shadow him. These accessions to the ranks of the slave traders will have the effect of reinvigorating the revolt, which would have died out if the Germans had not retained Bogonnyo and Dar-es-Salem.

It is the members of the Chinese legation at is the largest legation here, and its government greatest letter writers in the world. Family and personal letters are numerous enough, American capital larger sums of money than any other country. The Chinese occupy one of the largest houses in the city, the "Stenart castle," built by Senator Stewart, on Dupont circle, just across the street from Mr. Blame's house. Though the house is a very large one of four stories, it is none too large for the legation, which numbers sixteen persons, and with servants makes up a house-bold of more than fifty individuals. "We have a very large and very happy family here," said Secretary Bartiott "Out young gentlemen are very sociable, and most excellent times they do have. There is just enough work to make them relish their play. They keep up their studies, too. It was by study, you know, that these men secured the honor of position in the diplomatic service of their country, one of the highest honors which a young Chinaman can win "

"Civil service examination?" "Yes, indeed. China has had civil service reform for hundreds of years. All appoint ments to government service are made from lists of successful students, mer who have passed the annual literary examinations. Some of these voting men you see here were very poor and are still, for that matter. But they were good students, and that brought them official position and great opportunities for advancement. The competitions in Chins are engaged in by men of all ages, and a young attache whom we had here a few years ago told no the pleasure of his own tri umph at the examinations was darkenes somewhat by his father's failure. This was his father's fourth failure, and probably his last, for, while a mrn may compute as ofter as he likes, four fudures is about as large r number as any body is willing to endure. The sons of tich mon have to go through these examinations on the same basis with the some of poor men; but, of course, one hears alanning boards. "We have a very large staff of servants here. The turniture of the house is chiefly American, though there are a good many Chinese utensiis in the latchen. American bods are used in the slaving form. We have both Chinese and colored servicits, and they get along much together. The minister is very fond of American cooking, and so we keep an accomplished cook who is a colored man, and a good Chinese cook too. On the dinner table you will see a rather odd blend ing of Chinese and Aperican deless and manners, and there are many merry discusvainds. Letters of respect, of compliment, of congratulation in promotions, birthdays, anniversaries, are in promotions, birrinays, anniversaries, are continually passing between officials in China and members of the legation here. A queer fact about an official Chinese letter is that the color of the paper and envelope indicates the rank of the writer. The most common colors are the various shades of red. The superscription of a Chinese letter has the name after the titles, and all the titles are usually put on. Just listen to this, which I read from an envelope ready to go out in to-

"We dare not discuss the emperor and his family. It is not allowed by oficial chiquette. On first coming to this country we ere thanked by the freedom with which officials discuss their ruler, their president Americans cannot understand the age in which our emperor is held. Everything teasible is done to add to the dignity and sacred ness of our emperor's person. The common people are forbidden to use must of the things used by him, and many articles are tearved for him alone by color or some distinguishing mark. The outer gate of our emperors and to us the case with which an audience is secured of your president is quite amazing. Our emperor's vacant throne, or even a sheet of yellow silk thrown over a chair, receives the humble obenance of the people as typical of the sovereign. It is not long now since official communications from the emperor to this legation were received with burning of incense and prostrations. Your presidential elections are very amusing to us

"Can very poor men rise to the highest official station in your country?"

"Yes. We once had a premier who was a common laborer's sen. When the emperor finally discarded him he was found to be the possessor of $105,000,000 in gerns and coms, besides immunorable lands and houses. He lost his life as possity for acquiring such great riches. of society In the Stewart castle they have a great ball room capable of accommodating 200 dancers and 500 spectators. Then enter taniments are attended by the clife of the city. Several members of the legation are social favorites, spending money lavishly for equipages, presents and dinners. A common aight on Pennsylvania avenue is one of these foreigners, with gold and silver dragons on his embroadered vest, peacock plumage and silver banderoles drooping on his brocaded shoulders, and a proud button in his silken cap, rolling along in a carriage with a prefi-American gull by his side. Occasionally one is seen walking along Connecticut avenue near Dupont circle with two or three American beauties for company.
